SELASSIE DENIES ITALIANS USING HORROR METHODS

LITTLE RULER IS WILLING TO DISCUSS PEACE

Demands, However, That Fascist Soldiers Be Withdrawn

Copyright, 1935

By The Associated Press
Addis Ababa, Oct. 22.—Emperor Haile Selassie flatly denied to the Associated Press today reports published abroad that the Italian army had used either poison gas or dum-dum bullets in its invasion of his kingdom.

Although giving the lie to this report about his enemy, the little ruler, in an interview granted this correspondent, said: "Fascist invasion was without shadow of provocation."

He said he would be willing to discuss peace with Premier Mussolini "only when his soldiers get out of our country."

(Dr. William Rockman, American physician from Wheaton, Ill., was quoted in dispatches from Addis Ababa recently as saying he treated a soldier apparently wounded by dum-dum or explosive bullets.

(Reuters News Agency dispatch Oct. 8 mentioned an unofficial report that Italians had used gas near the Holy city of Aksum.)

Asked precisely what peace terms would be acceptable, Haile Selassie replied:

"I do not think this is the moment to discuss eventual peace terms. In any case the whole dispute is in the hands of the League of Nations, which I am sure will see that, if peace comes, it will be a just peace, leaving our sovereignty, territorial integrity and independence intact."

"Any other peace is not peace but stark confection."

Adding to his credit marks for the Italians, the Emperor flatly denied that Italians ran their tanks into towns and villages in Ogaden province, among the inhabitants by machine guns or crushing them under the tanks. He said he had heard this had been alleged abroad.

"Let us try if we may," he said. "To mitigate the inherent horrors of war by being frank and honest and giving our enemies credit where credit is due."

"Is not war terrible enough without inventing it with such horrors?"

He would not permit his own troops to use gas or dum-dum bullets, he said.

Admitting Italian planes have bombed many frontier towns, he said this had little effect on his troops, who carry on their themselves in the ground.

"But," he declared, "what grieves me is that a considerable number of defenseless women and children have been killed by bombs."

Haile Selassie said he was firm in his position to reject one-sided peace terms because he asserted the Italian army "has scarcely dented Ethiopia's national defenses and have not yet tested the mettle of Ethiopia's troops. Their morale, he asserted, was never higher."

The Italian occupation of Adwa and Aksum he described as being like armed marauders entering an empty, undefended house. The inhabitants had long since left on the orders of the government in order to preserve the towns from destruction.

Asserting the Italians have not demonstrated any outstanding military strategy and have not met the main Ethiopian forces in their mountain strongholds, he said it was there the Fascists would meet defeat.

"They shall not pass," he declared. "Those words are written on the hearts of our soldiers."

"We have sufficient arms, ammunition and money to carry on if Mussolini refuses to listen to the collective warnings of the nations of the world," said Haile Selassie. "We will fight the struggle to the end with every prospect of success."

Concluding the interview, the Emperor said that up to the present neither Italy, France, Great Britain nor the League of Nations had offered him any peace proposals, directly or indirectly.

WPA SLEUTHS TO RUN DOWN 'GRAFTERS'

Fifty Special Fields Agents Appointed By Dallas Dort

Washington, Oct. 22.—(P)—WPA set out today with a squad of its own sleuths—known here as "W-men"—in an effort to track down work relief grafters.

"Our job is to keep graft out of the program and we are going to do it," said Dallas Dort, head of the works progress administration division of investigation in announcing the appointment of 50 "special field agents."

These new federal agents, working out of Washington and 13 regional offices, will operate both independently and in co-operation with other government agencies, notably the secret service.

Dort, 27-year-old lawyer, said he planned to take over later most of the 60 state relief administration investigators when the $400,000,000 program gets fully underway.

Most of his agents are former "G-men." The remainder, like many of the federal division of investigation operators, are lawyers or accountants, all experienced in detective work.

Dort asserted that administrators of the work relief act, which itself makes any kind of false statement of corruption involving the appropriation of a federal misdemeanor punishable with $1,000 fine and two years imprisonment, would expedite prosecution.

The nearly $3,000,000,000 spent on the dole was technically state money and state prosecutors took charge of the evidence after it was worked up by relief agents. The new program, however, will be carried out entirely by federal authorities.

Looking back to the CWA to support his assertion that graft will be kept out, Dort said that charges were found justified in only 240 of the 738 completed inquiries.

Although Harry L. Komisar is responsible to President Roosevelt for the entire appropriation expenditure, Dort said his agents would concern themselves primarily with WPA's $125,000,000. The interior department division of investigation, for example, will continue to check the Bizarre Munch-Ware missing baby case.

In a habeas corpus application hearing on which is now in its second week Anna Ware, an unwed servant girl from Newton, Pa., accused Mrs. Munch, sister of a state supreme court judge, of obtaining the Ware baby, though arrangements with Jones, with the intention of "palling it off" as her own.

Commissioner Limbaugh made his comment a short time after he had ordered Jones to identify the mysterious "Mr. and Mrs. X" for whom he said he obtained the Ware baby. Jones had declined to identify them on the grounds it was a confidential relationship between an attorney and his clients.

With the commissioner's order however, he replied:

"The husband's name is J. R. Palmer, and I think the wife's name was Adeline—Adelle—something like that. Jones said the arrangements for them to obtain the Ware baby were made in Memphis, Tenn."

As he finished speaking Commissioner Limbaugh remarked, "the commission feels that we are trifling with the law and blocking avenues of justice by not getting anything done to see that the baby is recovered."

Damage Much Less Than Had Been Anticipated

Santiago, Cuba, Oct. 22.—(P)—Eastern Cuba apparently had weathered the fury of a Caribbean hurricane tonight with a death toll of from one to four. 20 persons reported hurt and with less property damage than had been anticipated.

One woman was killed here, buildings were unroofed and streets were cluttered with debris. A report from Caimanera, not entirely confirmed, said three persons were drowned there.

Reports over restored communication lines failed to show major damage in other east Cuba towns, however, and the Belen observatory at Havana said the storm had reached a virtual standstill in Oriente province, north northwest of Santiago.

Damage of only negligible character was reported from Guantanamo which at first was believed hard hit. Several coastal towns had been evacuated by authorities before the blow and it was believed this had prevented many casualties.

Rivers were out of their banks in the Guantanamo area, but the commandant of the United States naval station there said he had heard of no casualties and the 60-mile wind did no material damage.

Superimposed in the background is the 1936 presidential campaign. This has brought rumors of possible cabinet changes, including the retirement of Postmaster-General Farley to devote all his time to his duties as chairman of the Democratic national committee.

For advice, the president can turn to hundreds of letters from clergymen which have accumulated during his absence in response to a white house request for counsel on local conditions.

Many of these letters are known to be frankly critical of much that the New Deal has developed. In Mr. Roosevelt's absence, however, the white house secretaries has declined to make public the ratio of adverse and friendly replies.

The two most pressing problems—the relief and the budget—are closely related. Next year's policy toward care of the needy may go far toward determining how nearly the 1937 federal income will approach expenditures.

Congress appropriated $4,800,000,000 this year to finance the work relief program intended to take 3,500,000 off the dole. The deficit for the 1938 fiscal year, ending next June 30, was estimated at $3,281,582,350, by the president in his September 29 "budget summary."

Federal departments now are submitting their 1937 financial requests to Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget. But how "sharp" will be the "decrease" predicted by the president in the 1937 spread between the total of such requests and rising federal revenues is expected by most observers to depend upon the cost of 1937 relief.

President Roosevelt must decide upon his return whether this government will comment to the League of Nations on steps the league has taken to apply sanctions against Italy. With mandatory provisions of the recent neutrality law expiring February 29, the administration is expected to make recommendations to congress for new legislation.

Bonus legislation, what, if anything, is to replace NRA, consumer disbursements with rising prices, and the possibility of the supreme court upholding the AAA appear before Congress.

Bullets whizzed off and on for many miles after the main fusillade of shots had ceased and residences in the neighborhood were riddled by the shots taken by the police for emergency treatment.

Some of those taken to the hospital were reported in a critical condition. Early reports stated that all of those wounded were guards on the dock front, but another report said that one of the I. L. A. pickets had been treated for a minor wound at a downtown doctor's office.

After reports of the battle had been given to Governor O. K. Allen at Baton Rouge, the governor said he was keeping a close watch on the situation.

The Lake Charles fatality was the third since the I. L. A. strike and picketing was called at Gulf ports Oct. 1. The other fatalities were in New Orleans and Port Arthur.

Lake Charles' maritime interests just a few days ago signed a two-year contract with the Louisiana Longshoremen's Association for handling deep sea cargo and the I. L. A. sought to prevent the carrying out of the contract as a discrimination against the I. L. A.

There isn't enough of a surplus, yet," he said. "When there will be, I cannot say."

At present there is a surplus of approximately $15,000,000 in the state, about $6,000,000 more than the surplus built up under the 2 per cent sales tax prior to July when the levy was increased.

Billman and Wilson said they expected no opposition, political or otherwise, to appear in the pending session against social security legislation pertaining to old age, blind and mothers' pensions or the establishment of an administrative law.

They said there might be some debate on the "on-again, off-again" matter of county or township administration.

The other children were Dolores Neal, 5, and Robert Neal, 4, her brother.

The children talked incompletely of their experiences, police said. They indicated the man, who had lured them into an automobile, had given each girl a five-cent piece and the boy a quarter of a dollar. Police said it appeared the man had "taken liberties" with the children.

Mrs. Mackison—whose estranged husband runs an elevator in a leading hotel—said she did not know Mrs. Silivinski until they went with two slightly built, well dressed men who had plenty of money, in a night club here. The four had a few drinks and visited other hot spots together, she said. Once one man slapped Mrs. Silivinski to the pavement, but this was made up. Later the victim was sick in the car, was slugged by her escort and got out. Mrs. Mackison declared the girl ran dazedly ahead and the driver stepped on the gas and ran her down. She said the man drove five miles, then went back and ran over the body again.

Silivinski was traced to Baltimore by his business agent, Elmore Danenauer, who interrogated there. Baltimore reported they found Silivinski in a downtown garage; it was ordered held. Danenauer said Silivinski started back to Louisville yesterday. Danenauer was not held.

Carnegie Portrait Presented To Libraries for Centenary

Local Library Will Observe Carnegie Centenary Nov. 25

Once again we are urged to worry because the intelligent citizens are way for an exposition at Dallas and other features of magazine proportion.

The Jacksonville Public Library is preparing to observe the centenary of the birth of Andrew Carnegie, who provided the funds for the construction of the library building here.

The anniversary will be observed throughout the country in honor of the occasion.

The poster series has been sent out by the American Library Association, which is participating in the centenary celebration.

The Jacksonville Public Library is ready to participate in the United States and Canadian. Nearly 3,000 sets have been distributed. The federal government has committed itself to the construction of the library here.

Although Carnegie is known to the world as an industrialist and benefactor, he found time to do much writing. Some of his magazine articles published in the last century attracted persons intimately associated with the wide attention, particularly those in which he expanded his philosophy of the trusteeship of wealth. He wrote the number of books among them, being

"The Gospel of Wealth," "An Empire of Business," "Round the World," "Triumphant Democracy," "Wealth-Labor-Schism," and "Autobiography."

Carnegie possessed a faculty for public statements, many of which he organized the group, the Carnegie Foundation for a Stable, progressive civilization.

A copy of the portrait of Mr. Carnegie published in this issue has also been received and will be property of the library here. Material received in the library here. Material received from the Carnegie Foundation will be exhibited during anniversary week.

The library receives four editions of the Carnegie Book of the International Foundation each year as a part of the international kind. Above, these gifts will continue until a collection of a hundred volumes in the local library.

A copy of the Carnegie Foundation is building which was completed in 1902. The total cost, including the Foundation of International Conference, was $30,000. The library is now funded by a small tax.

Committees, organized in 24 states, will be formed of farmers, subdivided into sections, and college professors and power company men who will organize the group.

A homecoming for people of the Exeter community will be held next Sunday at the Exeter M. E. church, a former residence of Carnegie.

The library will be open to the public during the set-up period.

A formal invitation is to be followed by a program of speakers.

Letters have been sent out to former pastors of the church and old-time inhabitants of the town.

Lectures will be given at the church to young people of both sexes.

Silence" by Asbury was given by Mrs. Clark, a member of all members of Congregational area. A large audience is expected at the homecoming.

The hours of worship will be put on the afternoon program.

A formal invitation is extended to all former residents of the neighborhood to attend the affair.

Lectures will be given at the church and old-time inhabitants of the town.

CONSTIPATED 30 YEARS

For thirty years I had chronic constipation. I had to go four or five days, then had awful gas bloating, headaches and pain in the bowels. Adlerka helped right away. Her extract squares, bananas, etc. anything I want and never left better. I sleep soundly at night and enjoy life.—Mrs. Mabel Schen.

If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach, and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adlerka. Many report action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adlerka gives complete action, cleaning your bowel tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerka checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and colon bacilli." Give your stomach and bowels a real cleansing with Adlerka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.—Steinheimer Drug Store.

Morgan County Has 20 Children With Home-Aid Society

More Than 150 Children of This County Have Been Given Assistance

Although struggling to take care of their own children these last few years, the citizens of Illinois have continued to come to the aid of the less fortunate children of the state whose parents have either died or deserted. This they have done through their interest in and support of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society since it was founded in 1883 by the people of Illinois themselves.

Sons and daughters, and even grand children of those citizens originally interested in the work of the society are now helping the society play the role of parents to hundreds of children of the state.

One hundred and fifty-six children have been received for care by the society from Morgan county. Twenty children are still under care and 20 children were recently placed in foster homes in the county.

The program of the society now being carried on covers every corner of the state. Its 41 caseworkers are within reach of every child in need.

It may be a child taught to steal by a father who has deserted him, a boy or girl eligible for adoption, a homeless little boy badly in need of medical care...or a tiny baby left on a doorstep—each one is an individual problem which the society endeavors to solve.

In many cases children are given temporary care in selected foster homes while conditions in their own homes are improved, and the children eventually returned to their own parents. Younger children who have no parents or relatives to care for them are often legally adopted. But in many cases children placed in foster homes throughout the state reach their majority as wards of the society.

Last year the society cared for 3,917 children. Many of these were served without removal from their homes. At the present time the society's family numbers 1,950 children.

German Hatred for Jews Invades Wayside Shrine

Apparently disregarding the incongruity of their nearness, the authorities of Oberndorf, Bavaria, have erected a symbol of their hatred for the Jews at the side of a wayside shrine dedicated to the crucified Prince of Peace. The sign bears the notice "Jews are not wanted here."

Mrs. Roy Dugger on Centennial avenue.

Meredosia Bridge Pier Work Begins

Concrete Pouring Started
Sunday on East Side of
New Structure

Workmen for the Wisconsin Steel Bridge Company have experienced much delay during last week, and as a result were not able to start pouring concrete for piers on the Meredosia bridge as was scheduled for last Wednesday.

The concrete pouring job was started Sunday on pier four on the Meredosia side of the river, where the delay was caused because of the necessity for pumping of water from the excavation. Piling have been driven, however, and the pier is now ready for steel reinforcements and concrete.

Abutments and approaches on both sides have been completed.

USES HOUSE FOR FIRE

Kalispell, Mont.—P. J. Murphy had better stay in jail this winter. He's there now and the house he used to have has been torn down and carted away by Seymour Kanacka, Flathead Indian, who needed fire wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simmons and family were Jacksonville visitors Saturday. Miss Mamie Thudy of Jacksonville returned home with them for a week-end visit.

Miss Eleanor Wood of Jacksonville was a Sunday guest of Edna Lee.

On Sunday evening the same group surprised Mrs. Claude Brickey for her birthday also. Basket suppers were enjoyed each evening followed by a social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beck left Saturday morning to visit friends and relatives in Kankakee and Chicago over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brickey were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brickey in Murrayville.

Grace Church Doing

Volunteer pledge on the church budget got off on a very good start Sunday. A. G. Cody, chairman of the finance committee, presented the subject in a very carefully thought out speech at the morning service. Dr. Havighurst by special request delivered the sermon upon "The Fading Leaf," in which he drew some hopeful lessons.

At the evening service the sermon theme was "The Transforming Crises in the Life of Jacob." Both services were greatly helped by the singing of the two choirs.

Sunday school attendance was 433 and the offering $12.31. The college league held a social hour at 5:30 followed by the devotional period led by Richard Simonsen. Lee Murphy was the leader of the high school group.

Monday at 7:30 p.m. the Second auxiliary of the Woman's Home Missionary society held an open meeting at the home of Mrs. F. H. Rose.

stration of pauper relief. It appeared that question, which has bounced around every legislation session since 1931, would be settled by turning the administration back to townships. Counties have it now.

Labor legislation requested will be discussed on a labor-employer basis, rather than a political status, it was forecast. Mr. Horner asked amendment of two sections of the safety, health and comfort law which the Supreme Court last April ruled unconstitutional. Whether the question of the occupational diseases law, also found unconstitutional, could be brought up again in the legislature was discussed in the state labor department after the call was issued, but authors of the call said they did not believe it could be introduced legally.

Other subjects included in the call were: Interstate crime compacts; alteration of the length of payment periods on the common school fund; changes in the date of election for boards of school inspectors, for the benefit of school; working cash funds for boards of education; federal grants; local bond issues and tax anticipation warrants; local validation of bond issues and tax levies; construction of a sewage treatment plant for the city of Anna and the Anna State Hospital; participation in the Mark Twain centennial celebration and appropriations for the expenses of the special session.

None of these subject, Billman and Wilson considered controversial, from any light.

Albert Stout Dies Here Yesterday

Was Lifetime Resident of County; Funeral Will Be Held Wednesday

Albert R. Stout, a lifetime resident of Morgan county, died here at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He was a farmer by occupation, but retired some years ago.

Surviving are a brother and sister, Joseph Stout and Mrs. Alta Caldwell, both of Jacksonville.

The remains were removed to the Gillham Funeral Home, where services, with Rev. Francis E. Smith in charge, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES AT SOLDIER'S GRAVE

Officers of the Francis Scott Key chapter, U. S. Daughters of 1812, and descendants of William Roberts, patriot in the War of 1812, have completed a program of inspiration and interest for the services to be held on Sunday, October 27, at the family cemetery four miles southeast of Franklin. The cemetery is located on the George W. Seymour farm near the Criswell school.

Services will be held at 2 o'clock. William Roberts has many descendants in this community, who have been active in arranging this ceremony. Mrs. Roy Davenport, a great-granddaughter, is a member of the local chapter of 1812. All members and friends are asked to attend.

SOUTH SIDE COMMUNITY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The South Side Community club met with Mrs. Roy Kelly recently with sixteen members present. The club voted to meet with Mrs. Weil of Jacksonville for an all day meeting. Plans were also made for a Hallowe'en party to be given at Nortonville on Oct. 30, to which the public is invited.

Profit-Taking
In Stock Mart

By Frank MacMillen

New York, Oct. 22.—(P)—Profit-taking combers swept over the stock market list today, dislodging some of the recent industrial favorites from their leadership, but a number of utility and rail issues were pushed forward to take their places.

The close saw prices about evenly divided between plus and minus prefixes. The first hour of trading provided the chief excitement as profit taking was at its peak in the largest initial hour's dealings, 920,000 shares, registered since February 10, 1934.

The stock ticker failed to keep pace with trading on the floor for considerable periods during the first hour or so, as many active industrials and specialties dropped 1 to 2 points. The rhythm of dealings slowed considerably later to bring the day's total in the stock exchange to 2,840,130 shares.

A gain of .2 of a point in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at 51.9 brought that compilation to a new 1935 peak. Chiefly as a result of the recent market's rise to a new top for the year at 59.8. The 15 rails listed 5 of a point while the 30 industrials were down 2 of a point.

Corporate and business news was scarce, but Wall Street noted that the carloadings reports of individual roads last week, many of which were made public today, mostly showed continued gains.

The buying in utilities, market quarters reported, seemed to be based on the feeling that the group had not been keeping pace with the rest of the market recently, and that while some of the industrials might be due for correction the utilities might easily come ahead.

GRAVES OF 91 VETS OF 1812 ARE LOCATED

Mrs. Sara John English Lists
Names Of Deceased
Soldiers

In General Garrity's volumes entitled "Roll of Honor Deceased Ex-Servicemen and Women," (Oured in Illinois) there is listed for Morgan County, only one veteran of the War of 1812, namely Gov. Joseph Duncan, who sleeps his last sleep in Diamond Grove Cemetery. When the tablet in honor of 1812 War Veterans was placed on the Morgan County Court House November 9, 1931, graves of fifty-one veterans of that war had been found and now there are ninety-one known to be buried in Morgan County, says Mrs. Sara John English, state chairman of grave location, U. S. D. of 1812.

"Why should we care to know or to be interested in these men long dead?" Mrs. English asks.

Because we owe to these valiant patriots and statesmen a debt of gratitude so great it can never end. They saved our infant nation, blazed the way for civilization and laid the very foundation of our institutions, so precious to all Americans.

By their side of independence the gates were thrown open for the mighty westward flow of humanity—and this great Illinois country became safe and pleasant place to live its attractions and the fertility of its soil were told abroad by the soldiers of 1812 when they returned to their Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio homes. Illinois was cleared and its soil tilled by these men, and the state and government were formed by them. Illinois' first six governors were all soldiers of 1812—these men guided her through her formative period by their foresight, courage, sacrifice and wisdom. Nathaniel Pope, member of Congress from Illinois, served as the delegate at the time of the admission of the territory as a state.

"Illinois soil is made sacred by the dust of these patriots. In fact the whole state is the sepulcher of these famous men whose glory is not only graven upon the stones over their graves, but lives on without visible symbol, woven into the very fibre of other men's lives. For us it remains to rival what they have done, to preserve our freedom and happiness."

Following are the names of veterans who were pioneers in Morgan County and Jacksonville, as outlined by Mrs. English:

Troops; John Bradshaw, Kentucky Militia; Nathaniel Cox, Kentucky Militia; Darius Ingalls, New York Militia; Dr. Archibald Smith, surgeon's mate to commanding officer at Erie, Pa.
